

Celebrating the Season around the World Website Project Worth 100 Points

Scenario

This Web project is going to provide you with the opportunity to expand your knowledge of other cultures throughout the world. You need to select five countries other than the United States and research how (or if) Christmas is celebrated in those countries. This site needs to be a minimum of six pages. You need to create a Web page for each country you select. Your homepage (remember to name this either index or default) needs to be an overview of the five pages that make up your Web site. As far as text, each of your pages (except your homepage) should have between 10-15 sentences on them. These pages could include a variety of information such as history, foods, and other important traditions or customs associated with the countries you select.

Finding accurate and useful information is the primary goal of this project. One helpful search would be:

Google searching: Christmas + China, Japan (whatever country you are looking for)

Remember to use quotations if you are using phrases in a search in order to narrow your results.

Example: Instead of searching history of Christmas search for "history of Christmas"

YOU MUST HAVE AT LEAST FOUR DIFFERENT REFERENCES TO RECEIVE FULL CREDIT FOR THIS WEB PROJECT!!!

You should not include any information that has been included on a previous Web project. NO COPYING AND PASTING!!!

Additional Requirements

Like all projects the material contained within each of your Web pages must be school appropriate. This applies to all information included within the project and it must NOT contain anything that might be considered offensive or disrespectful. Projects that do not follow this simple guideline will receive a zero!

References that indicate where you found pictures, information, or other materials should be included on the proper pages. DO NOT copy and paste information from one Website directly into your project. Summarize information, put it into your own words, and make it meaningful to you and your audience.

Don't forget to spell check! You will lose five points for each spelling error found within your project. Also organization counts for this project. Do you have folders for graphics, pages, documents, etc., or do you have a whole bunch of files in your main student folder?

After you have completed your Web project, please turn in your planning sheet, which has the grading rubric on the back of it. (Make sure your name is on it!). Remember your planning sheet is worth 10 points.
